TEAM MEMBER LEVEL CLASSIFICATION

1. If you invite Person A to participate in this program, then A is considered a first-generation user in your team.
2. If A invites Person B to participate, then B is considered a second-generation user in your team.
3. If B invites Person C to participate, then C is considered a third-generation user in your team.

(A = GEN1, B = GEN2, C = GEN3)

Team Commission Rates:
(Gen1) First-generation user income:	12%
(Gen2) Second-generation user income:	4.00%
(Gen3) Third-generation user income:	2.00%

Suppose you invite 10 first-generation users.

If each of your first-generation users invites 10 people, your second-generation users will total $10 \times 10 = 100$ people.

You have 100 second-generation users. If each of your 100 second-generation users invites 10 people, your third-generation users will total $100 \times 10 = 1000$ people.

Your team members include first-generation users Gen1 + second-generation users (Gen2) + third-generation users (Gen3): $10 + 100 + 1000 = 1110$ people.

If each of your first-generation users earns 100 USDT per day, then your rebate is: $10 \times (100 \times 12\%) = 120$ USDT.

If your second-generation users earn 100 USDT per day, then the commission from your second-generation users to you is: $100 \times (100 \times 4\%) = 400$ USDT.

If your third-generation users earn 100 USDT per day, then the commission from your third-generation members to you is: $1000 \times (100 \times 2\%) = 2000$ USDT. Therefore, your daily income is: $120 + 400 + 2000 = 2520$ USDT.
